Marc A. Scorca Hall

New Theatrical LED Lighting System

The centerpiece of the National Opera Center, Marc A. Scorca Hall debuts an all-new theatrical LED lighting system in fall 2026. The upgrade includes a full suite of ETC lighting fixtures — including Lustr2 and Selador Desire D40 — to illuminate the jewel-box recital hall.

THE NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM OFFERS:

Unique light customization

Customize the color of your front light, side light, and back light to fit your individual event.

More control

Take control over the ambiance and atmosphere of your event by changing the color and intensity of your lighting.

No expertise required

The new system will allow for radical changes without the need for lighting expertise.

Greater comfort onstage and off

LED lights emit less heat, which means a more comfortable climate in the hall.

Photo and video samples of the system in use in the hall will be available in fall 2026.
